GSC Reimbursed

Randy Ledbatter of Service Master Corporation recently presented to Glenville State College a check for Glenville's participation in the National Track and Field Championships. Accepting the check in the absence of President William K. Simmons was Academic Vice President James L. Peterson.

Service Master sponsored the Track and Field Championship at Azusa Pacific University in Azusa, California. Service Master Corporation provides food service, custodial care and grounds maintenance contracts for colleges and universities.

Traveling with coach Janet James from Glenville to Azusa were Pioneers Charles "Bubby" Dent and Mickey Grass. Dent came in second for All-American status in the steeple chase and Grass was entered in the marathon. Dent is from Scott Depot and Grass is from Milton.

Presented to GSC from Service Master was a $365.44 check to cover some travel expense to the championship.

Picnic Adds Flavor

Many people showed up to enjoy the picnic in the amphitheater on Thursday, September 28, as part of the GSC Homecoming festivities. All students including faculty and staff, commuters and people who live off campus were invited to come. The chefs at GSC prepared a marvelous meal for all of the students, consisting of fried chicken, barbecued ribs, green beans, pasta salad, rolls, ice cream and various cakes for dessert. It seemed to be the perfect sunny, but cool day for a picnic. Everyone seemed to enjoy their meal and talking among friends. We were all glad to see so much school spirit this year as we saw a large turnout at the various Homecoming activities.

Homecoming Deemed Successful

Fair weather prevailed during the week allowing students, faculty, administration and alumni to enjoy the 1989 Glenville State College Homecoming festivities held September 25-30.

The activities began on Monday when the Lady Pioneer Volleyball Team took on the West Liberty Hilltoppers and the Fairmont State Falcons at 6:00 p.m. in the gymnasium. At 8:00 p.m. "Dirty Rotten Scoundrels" was viewed and a pizza party was held in the snack-bar of the Student Union.

On Tuesday, students enjoyed playing bingo from 6-8:00 p.m. in the ballroom. Eight GSC students shared $125 in cash prizes. Mary Alice Maher was the big winner of $30. Mandy Bumgarner took home $25, Denise Oldham was a $20 winner and the following students each won $10: Crystal Kitzmiller, Paula Rexroad, Terry Schan, Waylon Province and Sherri Elmore. At 8:00 p.m. the choir presented a concert in the auditorium and a pool party was held from 10-12:00 p.m.

The festivities continued on Wednesday as many students tested their luck at the casino held in the ballroom. The top winner for the evening was W. Jason Davis. Terry Schan placed second and Michael H. Hanlin took third place.

Thursday included two of the favorite Homecoming events. Students took a break from eating in the cafeteria and enjoyed the scrumptious food served at the picnic held in the amphitheatre from 4-6:30 p.m. Afterwards, a large crowd watched in amazement as the "Chinese Magic Revue," acrobats from China, performed spectacular and breathtaking feats.

On Friday night a pep rally/bonfire was held at the athletic field. The football team was introduced and the cheerleaders performed cheers and sideline chants to get school spirit ignited.

Homecoming Day festivities began at 8:00 a.m. with the 4th annual 10K Pioneer Road Race. Tom Clark placed first in the men's division and Janet James took first place honors for the women. At 10:00 a.m. Dr. Espy W. Miller served as Parade Marshal of one of the largest Homecoming parades in recent years. The coronation ceremony took place at 11:00 a.m. in the amphitheatre. Carla June

by Carmen Wager
Cutlip was crowned by Pres. William K. Simmons to reign as Queen of the 1989 GSC Homecoming. At 12:45 p.m. pre-game activities were held at Pioneer Stadium. At 1:00 p.m. the Homecoming Queen and her court were introduced: Queen Carla Cutlip escorted by GSC Pioneer, Drew Taylor, and attended by Brittany de Rosset and Andrew Butcher; Senior Princess Rita Layfield escorted by Dean Brannon; Junior Princess Cheryl Amos escorted by Mike Miller and Freshman Princess Valerie Hill escorted by Brian Vest. Game time was at 1:30 p.m. when the GSC Pioneers battled the West Liberty Hilltoppers. The Pioneer Marching Band, led by Field Commander Trey Simonson, made GSC proud as they gave a wonderful half-time performance. The show included songs from today's top movies and some of Elvis' greatest hits. Homecoming activities were brought to an end with a dance held in the ballroom from 9-12:00 p.m. featuring "LEGGZ."

Congratulations to the GSC Student Congress who organized a successful Homecoming week.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Please accept my heartfelt thanks to you and the staff of The Glenville Mercury for your generosity in publishing the story concerning my appointment as parade marshal for the 1989 Glenville State College Homecoming. I am duly pleased and flattered.

For your successful experiment in use of blue and black ink for the Homecoming edition of The Mercury, you, the staff, and your advisor, Mrs. Yvonne King, are to be congratulated. The blue ink gave the paper an over-all aesthetic appearance that was quite impressive.

May I extend my best wishes for a successful publishing year in the months to come.
Sincerely yours,
Espy W. Miller

Dear Editor:

I am an English-Language Arts (5-8) (9-12) Education Major. I have transferred from another institution to complete my college education at the best college for teacher education in the state.

Unfortunately, I must make a difficult decision due to one English class. I need to enroll in this class before next fall, so I can student teach and graduate. The class was not offered this Fall nor will it be offered in the Spring, so I cannot student teach or graduate. If I do not graduate next Fall, then I do not graduate at all because my parents will have no more money to pay for my education.

I enjoy college and I'm quite happy with my instructors. I know I will love being a teacher because watching someone smile because they learned something new is my goal. I love learning and I love children. I'm unhappy when I think one class will keep me from graduating from such a fine school.

Kathleen Jennings

Dear Editor,

In the following editorial I would like to express my concern about two points. The first point I would like to make is this: why is it that every time an event such as Homecoming roles around so do tests? These events are scheduled for the student body as a release from the everyday stress and monotony encountered from classes, yet every time these activities come along so do the multiple number of tests included. Last Thursday night, in trying to make all the preparation for Homecoming, the talk of classwork became a common topic. One student involved had three tests the next day and another had four during the week. Our Student

As the Editor Sees it

by Paul Biser

He who hesitates loses. On one occasion everybody has been known to procrastinate. When procrastinating, we may philosophize that if we don't do the work it will go away. Not knowing how to do a task may be another reason for procrastinating. It may be done simply because we don't want to do the work.

Too much time can be spent thinking of how not to do a task instead of deciding how to do the task. Procrastinating about doing homework can be devastating to our grades. Regardless of how long assignments are put off, the work will have to be done; moreover when a week-long project is started the night before it is due, grades suffer. With so little time left, students tend to make mistakes; they have no time to correct mistakes, if noticed.

In order for students to be efficient, teachers need to set an example for students. If teachers require students' work to be handed in on a set date, then teachers should return the graded work on an announced, predetermined date. All levels of learning institutions could place emphasis on overcoming the problem of procrastination.

My purpose for selecting this topic is a reminder to myself and the college population that procrastination is a bad habit to form; it is a stumbling block in attaining our educational goals.

Congress handles all the activities during the week and is expected to make it a roaring success. Unfortunately, like the two afore mentioned students, they are expected to carry out the tasks of Homecoming Week, take their multiple tests, and still somewhere come up with time to enjoy it and relax. It sounds like a stressful additive rather than a depletion to me.

My second concern is the fact that everyone goes home even on the weekends we have events like Homecoming. After contemplation my reaction is this; could it be possible they have to get away from here to relax and avoid all the pent up stress they incurred from those long hours of studying for all those tests.

Send a Soldier a Greeting

"MAIL CALL!" are two words which are music to the ears of just about everyone who wears our country's uniform. Remember how it was on the M*A*S*H reruns? Concerned Americans from coast to coast joined forces last Christmas through a program with the same name ("Mail Call!") and brought smiles to more than 125,000 of our servicemen and women, many of them young people away from home for the first time.

"Mail Call!" combines greetings from thousands of members, re-sorting all the cards and letters into more than 900 bundles which are sent priority mail (nobody here has funds for airfare to fly around personally distributing mail!) to units and activities in more than 40 of our 50 states as well as to the four corners of the globe. Some members have received responses from every continent. The twin goals are to include mail from many people and places in each outgoing bundle and to spread each member's greetings as widely as possible. While the number of units receiving mail increased once again last Christmas, highlights were the addition of an entire remote Army base and the inclusion of 19 ships of the Navy's fleet. We have several large overseas units to add as more mail becomes available.

Christopher Conant of the Associated Student Community Service coordinated the participation of California State University - Northridge, #1 college/university in the 1988 Christmas Mail Call. Leading in the 1989 Valentine Mail Call was Montgomery County Community College in Blue Bell, Pennsylvania, where participation of the Alpha Kappa Zeta Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa and the Meridian Club was coordinated by Brenda K. Landt. Sincere thanks to those mentioned and to all the other wonderful folks who helped make last year's program the most successful ever.

Mail call is an exciting project for all college and university students (this is not limited to women; guys can also participate, as we have many young women in the military), whether with a group or as individuals. For information about taking part in this unique program, please send your name and address along with a first-class postage stamp (no envelope; just a stamp is required, please) to: MAIL CALL!, Box 988, ST. ROBERT, MO 65583, and mention where you read about Mail Call. Thank you!

Yearbook Staffers Begin

The 1989-90 GSC Yearbook Staff has kicked off its year welcoming the following staff members: Jeanette Kidder-Editor; Denise Boyd - Associate Editor; Carmen Wager and Arletta Messenger-Ad Managers; Julia Wood-Layout Artist; Chris Derico-Photographer; Tracy Legg and Kelli Myers-Typists. Members also include Angela Lloyd, Linda Smith, and Darrell Cheatham.

"Forums" to be Presented

The Glenville State College theatre department will present "Forums" at 8:00 p.m. in the college auditorium on October 25 to 28.

This play is a musical comedy based on a Roman play. Mr. Wemm said, "The purpose of this play is just getting a laugh." They've got a wonderful raft of performers, potential performers, friends and supporters of performers. This is the first audition he has ever run where the support groups actually outnumbered the people auditioning. Their first rehearsal has already involved everyone on September 25.

The production is directed by Dennis Wemm. Stage managers are Denise Davis and Linda Malcomb.

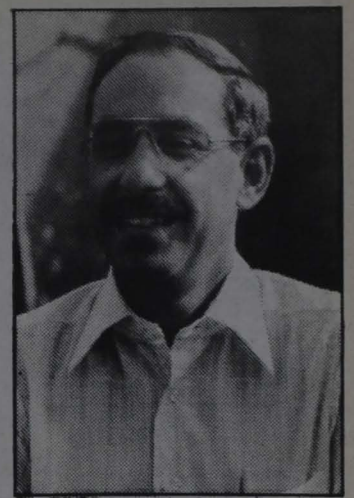

The cast includes Kristin Rogers as Pseudolus; Freeman Wiant as Senex; Kimberly Creel as Domina; Jim Shock as Hero; John Simonson as Hysterium; Paul Biser as Erronius; Greg Minner as Miles Gloriosus; Drew Taylor as Marcus Lycus; Heather Vineyard as Philia; Tracy Timko as Tintinabula; Annette Caldwell as Vibrata; and Mintia Myers as Gymnasia.

Jones Gives Presentation

On Wednesday, Sept 20, a special lecture was held for Special Ed 331 (Introduction to Specific Learning Disabilities). The guest lecturer was Dr. Cathy Jones from Calhoun County.

Etchison Promoted

No longer can Dr. Etchison be found at the top of the stairs in the Language Division. He has been appointed as the Chairperson for this year.

The transition into this position has been easy because of the support from the division, and the fact that they will all "pitch in and help" with paperwork or anything else that needs to be done.

He has acquired a few more responsibilities such as deciding what classes will be taught and when. He is also on the Curriculum Committee and the Teacher Education Committee.

He will still be teaching all of his regular classes, and not a whole lot has changed for him. If you need to find him though, look downstairs. Although his position has moved up his location has moved down.

Lecture Presented

On Tuesday, October 10, at 9:00 a.m. in the Wesley Foundation, Jay Edel will be the guest speaker from the Methodist Theological School (METHESCO) in Ohio. He will be talking with those students who are interested in attending METHESCO.

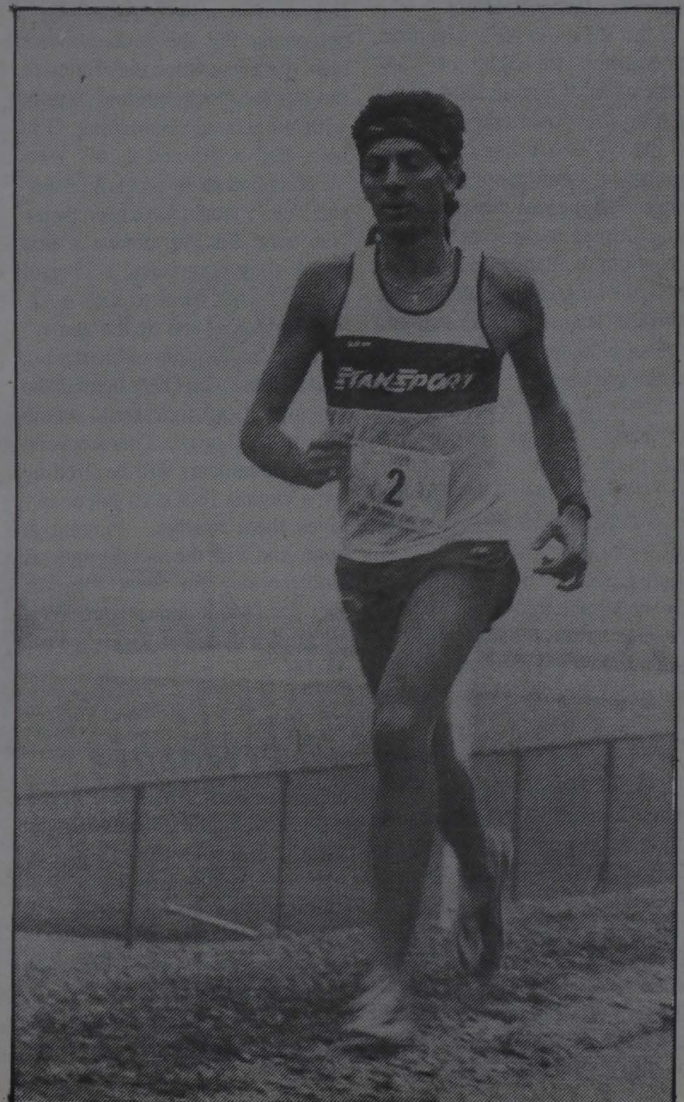

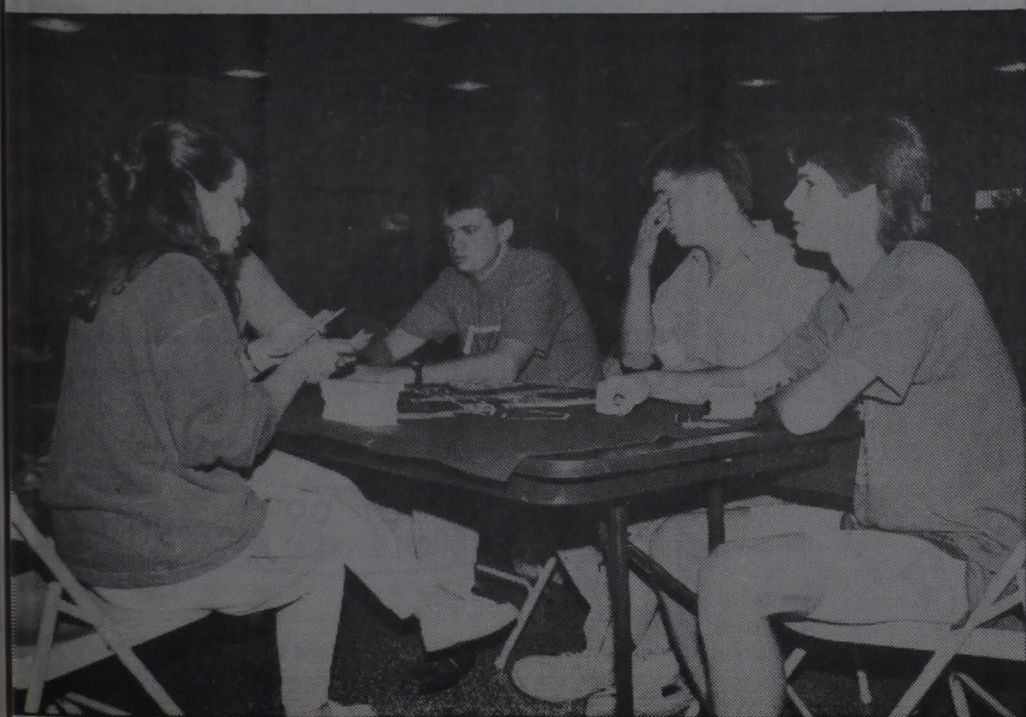

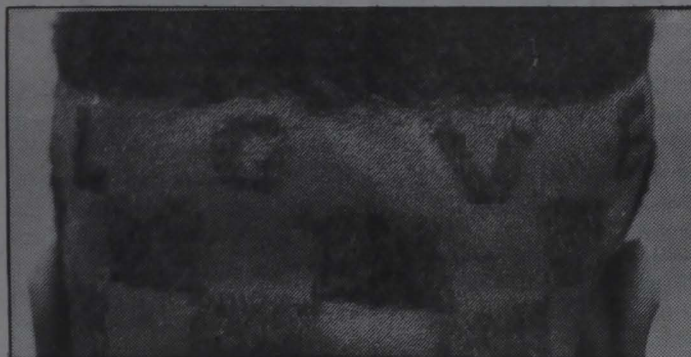

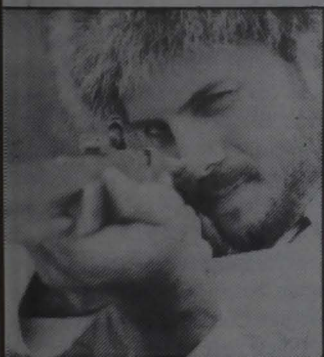

The discussion will focus on seminar education. There will be a video tape presenting the programs offered at METHESCO. Some programs being offered include: pastoral education, hospital ministry, youth ministry, Christian education, and various other courses in ministries.

There are various scholarships and financial aid available for qualifying students.

Last year's Glenville State College graduate, Darren Jones, is presently enrolled in his first year at METHESCO.

For further information contact Karen Frank, Campus Pastor.

Hart's Headlines

As football enters into the '90's, fans will see major changes on both the college and professional levels of play. Expect football as we know it in the '80's to go through some rule changes as the decades change hands.

In the year 1991, the National Football League will adopt the United States Football League's abandoned "challenge" rule. This rule will allow a coach to challenge non official's call per half. If the coach is wrong his team will be charged with a timeout. If he is right, the call will be overturned.

In 1992 the NFL will adopt a rule that will stop the clock on a first down inside the last two minutes of each half. In college, the clock is stopped on every first down to have the yard markers advanced. Now the NFL can be as exciting. Look for more late game heroics when this rule comes into effect.

In the '90's, the NFL will make an attempt to fight off any competition of Spring football, by opening their own league. Look for the '90's to bring the World League of American Football to Europe. Right now these talks are being slowed because of the lack of stadium availability along with travel and language problems. But when this league begins, it should be about as competitive as a women's powder puff team.

On the college level with the increasing number of NCAA infractions, look for freshman eligibility to be lost. The '90's may prove to be the decade of the red shirt freshmen. This issue was debated upon a decade ago and may well come into effect as early as 1994. Many coaches believe that freshmen are not ready for the change from the high school classroom to college academics and major college football.

With these and other issues pending, look for football as we know it to be lost in an age of change and ever-passing demands for good old American fun and excitement.

Well, many people have asked me where I felt the Mountaineers (4-0-1) went wrong in their tie with Pitt (3-0-1) Saturday. Depressing enough, I feel West Virginia was just plain outplayed in the second half. With the lead they had though (31-9), they should have been able to hold on. Many reasons could be blamed for their blowing such a big lead. It could have been when Pitt pulled off a successful onside kick. Or it could have been when West Virginia was called for a roughing-the-kicker penalty, allowing Pitt to score a touchdown instead of attempting a field goal. I personally felt the Mountaineers blew the game when they failed to run out the clock and had to punt with 49 seconds remaining. Pitt later had a 4th-and-8; all West Virginia had to do was hold them and victory would have been theirs. Not only did Pitt obtain a first down, they completed a 25-yard pass allowing them to kick a 42-yard field goal and tie the game.

For West Virginia to blow a big lead at home won't help them in the rankings. Look for them to stay in the top 10 though. This weekend the Mountaineers will be fired up for a Virginia Tech team that usually gives them trouble. Playing at home, and with the fact the game is Homecoming for West Virginia, look for a Mountaineer rout. West Virginia will defeat Virginia Tech 42-13.

Pioneers Drop Homecoming

The Glenville State College Pioneers fell to 0-3 overall and 0-2 in the WVIAC with a 33-0 Homecoming loss to the West Liberty State College Hilltoppers.

The winless Pioneers avoided the rain on this Homecoming day, but could not avoid the West Liberty secondary. The Hilltoppers intercepted five Pioneer passes, returning two for touchdowns.

The game was a defensive struggle from the onset, with neither team accumulating more than 100 yards total offense. The Pioneers held West Liberty to only 79 yards total offense, in which all 79 yards came passing. The Glenville defense held the Hilltoppers to 0 yards rushing on 34 carries. The Pioneer offense was not much better, accumulating only 100 yards total offense, 68 rushing and 32 passing.

The difference in the game was once again Glenville's inability to put together a solid offensive drive. With starting quarterback Rick Lewis unable to play because of an injury, backup quarterback Mike Kellar was forced into the starting position. Kellar, only a freshman, lacked experience and the West Liberty secondary took advantage of that by intercepting him four times and holding him to only 21 yards passing.

Early into the game, Glenville's Jeff Swisher received a kickoff and returned it all the way for a Pioneer touchdown, but the play was called back because of a penalty for clipping. Scoring began in the first quarter, when West Liberty blocked a Pioneer punt and recovered the ball on the one yard line. From the one, West Liberty's Jeff Williams ran it in for a Hilltopper touchdown. Matt Highly kicked an extra point which gave West Liberty a 7-0 lead.

Later in the first, Darryl Dabney intercepted a Mike Kellar pass and ran it 64 yards for a touchdown. Highly's kick made it 14-0.

With 6:52 left in the second quarter, Matt Kall of West Liberty stepped in front of another Kellar pass, and raced 18 yards for a touchdown. The extra point attempt was blocked.

Still in the second quarter, just two minutes and a Pioneer fumble later, Hilltopper quarterback Mike Coukart held the ball on a quarterback keeper and went in from the eleven yard line for a score. The halftime score showed West Liberty on top of Glenville 26-0 after the Hilltoppers unsuccessfully converted two points.

The third quarter was hard fought, with neither team giving ground. But just three minutes into the fourth quarter, West Liberty quarterback Mike Coukart connected with Todd Powell with an 11 yard scoring pass. With a successful extra point by Highly, the score stood at 33-0 and a loss for the Homecoming Pioneers.

Defensively, the Pioneers again played brilliantly. Glenville State was led by senior Luther Toney, with 6 tackles, 11 assists, and a fumble recovery. Also having another fine day was senior Brian Hill, with 4 tackles, 10 assists, and 3 quarterback sacks.

Next Saturday the Pioneers will again be at home as the host to Wagner College and will be looking for their first victory.

Dear Editor:

In news from LBH, the house director wishes to express his gratitude to the men of the residence hall for their well-mannered behavior to this point. Damages are nearly non-existent and the halls are clean. Only yesterday the head L.A. stated that girls have been seen on the fourth floor actually looking comfortable in being there. For the conduct our residents have shown something is being planned for the near future in their honor. A much deserved word of appreciation goes out to the R.A.'s for the outstanding job they've done in maintaining a high level of morale and a low level of damages. Also, a word of thanks goes out to those members of the office who have worked diligently to keep things in order. For those who haven't, applications are being taken for the future. And finally, hey Max, - lose the attitude, you'll never get a master key. Also, to Mike - really, it wasn't me!

Thanks,

Other fundraisers were discussed such as raffle and bake sales, but no dates were set.

There was a drawing between members attending the meeting for medical dictionaries.

The next meeting will be held on October 10, 1989 at 12:15 p.m. in SH100. Anyone interested is welcome to attend.

Guest Editorial: Communism Gives Way To Capitalism?

Marxism-Leninism has many ironic twists. It teaches that through the communist program the state will eventually wither away, leaving man in a condition of perfect freedom.

In this condition, the rule will be "from each according to his ability, to each according to his need." In other words, those with the ability to produce goods and services will - not out for profit; not for narrow self-interest; but not self actualization. The weak and the helpless who cannot produce will freely share in the producers' bounty. Thus personal and societal imperatives are reconciled and united.

In order to achieve this utopian condition in the indefinite future, we must immediately remove all limitations on the power of the state. To disappear, the state must first become all powerful. To be freed from state control, we must first become its slaves.

No communist country has yet been able to move beyond the first phase of Marxism - Leninism, which is the forced collectivization of society. They all remain locked into a state-imposed sharing of goods and services. The stateless society in which sharing is done on a voluntary basis is as remote now as it was when Marx published Capital.

Voluntary sharing on a meaningful scale takes place only in capitalist societies. The network newscasts of the last several days have shown various private organizations, such as the Lions' Club, gathering contributions for victims of Hurricane Hugo. Many other examples could be cited of the same phenomenon from support-a-child programs, to rock concerts to aid the poor, to church-related programs to feed the hungry in foreign lands. Similar efforts are not occurring in Eastern Bloc countries. There the state impoverishes its citizens and leaves them no room for private initiative.

While communism limps along toward some ever-distant mirage, capitalism allows for voluntary acts of compassion here and now.

Tubesing Appointed Director

The Administration of Glenville State College has recently appointed Richard Tubesing, the new library director.

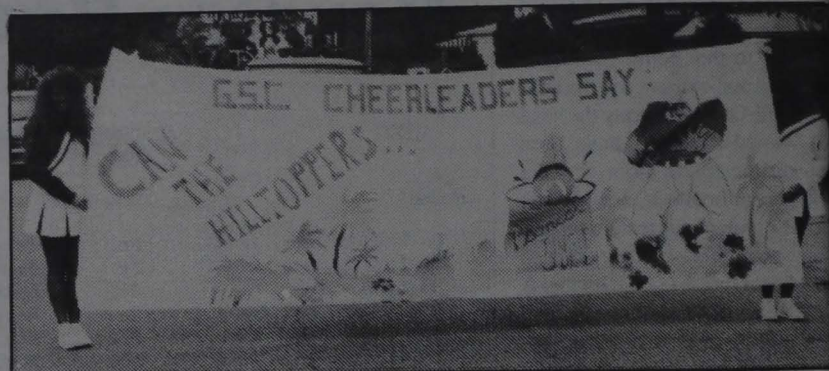

Mr. Tubesing, who came to GSC from the College of the Southwest in Hobbs, New Mexico, holds a B.A. from Yale, an M.S., an M.L.S. and has extensive library experience.

Mr. Tubesing says he likes Glenville "because of the people's attitudes." He also implied that he liked the rural atmosphere.

While he would like to see minor improvements in the library, he explained nothing major is planned.
