GLENVILLE STATE COLLEGE

10th Annual GSC Week Festivities Held

Although enthusiasm ran low at the beginning of the week, student participation increased and an enjoyable time was experienced by all who took part in the 10th annual GSC Week.

GSC Week is an event that is financed through student activity fees and allocated by Student Congress. Each year Student Congress sets aside approximately $10,000 to fund this event and works diligently to schedule activities and events that the students will enjoy. PCPB (Pioneer Center Programming Board) also contributes a lot of time and effort to make the week a success. The group works closely with the Director of Student Life, currently Laura Nauman, to plan and schedule the many activities.

Events throughout the week were diversified with something for everyone to enjoy: gambling, swimming, bingo, game shows, a field day, a talent show, dancing and many cash prizes for the winners of certain events.

Each year students do outrageous things in the spirit of the GSC Week festivities. Under the hypnosis of John Kolisch, students performed feats in front of an audience that they would never have done otherwise! Sarah Knapp had her "moment in time" as she imagined she was songster Whitney Houston. Bucky Villaneuva performed as Fred Astaire and Jim Shock took his moment in the spotlight as Bobby Brown.

During the fire truck ball competition, the participants managed to spray the audience several times. From the looks of Cheryl Amos and Lisa Dolan, mudwrestling must have been added to the list of field events!

Although participants of the numerous activities said and did some outlandish things, it was all in the name of fun, and helped to make another GSC Week fun and exciting.

Dr. Harry Heflin to be honored at dedication ceremony.

Pioneer Center Renamed Heflin Student Center

On Alumni Day, April 28, 1990, the Glenville State College Student Center will be dedicated in honor of Dr. Harry Heflin and renamed the "Heflin Student Center." The ceremonies will be held at the Student Center at 5:00 p.m.

Dr. Heflin was born in Ritchie County, received his BA from Glenville State College, MA from George Peabody College, and his Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh. Except for three years in the Navy during World War II, his entire professional life has been devoted to education. He began his career as a public school teacher in West Virginia and ended it as the eighteenth President of West Virginia University.

Although Dr. Heflin has had a varied and distinguished career, the seventeen years as President of Glenville State College endeared him to more people than any other position held. During his tenure at Glenville, he was highly respected and admired by students. For all of the students who attended GSC between 1947 and 1964, it will be a significant day. They remember, beyond doubt, that no one personified the spirit of the Glenville campus during those years more than Harry B. Heflin. Dr. Heflin was instrumental in getting the Student Center built in 1957 and the new wing in 1964.

Dr. Heflin is married to the former Dora Morgan. They have one son, Dr. B. Morgan Heflin, an orthodontist in Reynoldsburg, Ohio. The Heflins have two grandsons, Michael B. Heflin and Gregory S. Heflin.

Everyone is welcome to attend the dedication April 28, 1990 at 5:00 p.m. at the Student Center. The annual Alumni Banquet will be held in the Ballroom at 6:00 p.m. For dinner reservations, call the Alumni Office at 462-7361, ext. 122.

Examinations in evening classes are to be given at the last regular class meeting. In arranged classes the final examinations may be given at the last regular session prior to the final examination period.

In case of conflict in the schedule, the instructor concerned should see his Division Chairperson or the Dean of Teacher Education, and the Vice-President for Academic Affairs about special arrangements.

Each examination will be held in the room where the class has been meeting. Final examinations are to be given in all classes unless waived by the Division Chairperson and the Vice-President for Academic Affairs.

Persevere Through Finals

Editor Paul Biser

GSC Week was a week of fun and games. The games, the fun, and the food gave students an opportunity to relieve stress caused by the end of the semester and finals. Teachers, who enjoy the activities, also derive benefit from the week as a catch-up time and a time to plan for finals. Now that the week is over and all the fun and games are through, we students need to remember why we are attending Glenville State College.

Most students are here to obtain an education. Our priority when we came to GSC was to get prepared for the future. We wanted a good education not only to get well prepared for our careers, but also, to have a sense of fulfillment in knowing that we can perform well in the work place. We cannot forget our priority, especially for the next three weeks.

During the next three weeks, we students need to maintain a hold on what we have achieved this semester. It would be senseless to quit now and let our academic standings fall by the wayside, since all of this time and money has been invested. Even more, we need to excel to reassure ourselves of our abilities. To keep our sanity, we can ponder on the fact that there are only three weeks of school left, and then the pressure let up for a time. We can enjoy this carefree rest better if we've done our best and earned respectable grades.

Letters to the Editor

An Open Letter To Ms. MaryAlice Maher

Dear MaryAlice:

I have persued with trepidation, difficulty, bafflement, disgust, and wonder, examples of your endeavors in the fields of photocopying and/or layout and design. I am positive all the world (or almost all the world) would rejoice forevermore by elevating their voices to the high heavens should a decision emanate from you not to enter into either of these excellent fields as a lifetime vocation. Of course, those persons who obtain their daily living from the sale of supplies and materials used in these fields will be extremely distressed at the thought of lost profits of tremendous proportions should you steer your "talents" in another direction? Some of your work, which has recently been received into my possession, would be synonymous with the use of one popsicle stick or one tongue depressor.

Do not despair! Hearten up! There are possibilities of using these abilities--or in your case, an utter lack thereof--to attain enjoyment, as well as gainful employment. The publishers of children's stories which feature "fill-in-the-blank" or "guess-what-word-is-missing" activities are constantly seeking new employees.

In the future, whenever you are asked by an instructor to utilize your abilities in the production of photocopied handouts, why not ask a fellow employee to assist you. His, or her, task would be the alignment of the material into the machine, and you could push the button.

With sincere interest for all persons who must decipher your photocopied handouts, I remain,

Jim Eakle

ATTENTION GRADUATES

If you are scheduled to graduate in May, 1990 and have received one or more loans during your attendance at GSC, please stop by or call my office to set up an Exit Interview. The Interview will give you general information concerning repayment of your loan(s). This will take only a few minutes of your time and should be done before graduation on May 12, 1990. Failure to attend an Exit Interview will result in a hold being placed on your records at the Registrar's Office.

Pickens Hall Residents Voice Complaint

To the Editor:

As you may or may not know, the free weights from Pickens Hall Recreational Room were recently transferred to already well equipped Louis Bennett Hall Recreational Room. Enclosed is a copy of a petition containing the names of 170 members of the college community who are displeased with this transfer.

Now that the weights have been sent to LBH, any female who wishes to lift must wait until after 3:00 p.m. and must be signed in by a male resident. Those of us who circulated the petition have talked to several females who have gone to LBH to lift. All of them have stated that they do not feel "safe" lifting in an all male dorm. They also said that they had to be signed in at least twice, creating a great deal of difficulty. They asked us to emphasize just how unjust it was to them that the weights be transferred to LBH.

Due to the fact that all of the students are equally and financially responsible for their living quarters, they should be given equal access to and use of the recreational equipment that is available. Considering the number of students opposed to the transfer of the free weights, we are requesting that steps be taken to resolve this issue as soon as possible.

Bloops and Blunders by Pam Short

Sitting down is something that each of us do so many times during the day that we don't even think about it. Maybe we should. A student was telling me the other day that she was preparing to sit down in a "kiddie chair" and when she did, she missed it completely.

This same student was in the office of Pickens Hall and her knee was on a folding chair. That sounds innocent enough and it would have been if the student's knee hadn't gone completely through the chair.

Another student was talking about walking up the stairs of Clark Hall last semester. She fell and broke her nose and got a concussion out of the deal, too. She says she's

"a lot more careful now."

A teacher was telling me about giving out some extra credit work to her students. The students were instructed to read an assignment and answer some questions. The last question said, "What was the point of this article?" The student said, "To get ten extra credit points!" The teacher gave the student the extra credit anyway.

At the Nicholas County Center this week, a student tripped over a desk and fell face-first into another student's lap!

That's all for now! Keep your eyes open and watch where you are going!

Teacher Feature : An Interview With Russell Shepherd

by Carmen Wager

Dr. Russell Shepherd is a familiar face to anyone who has followed the Lady Pioneers in the past two victorious seasons. Dr. Shepherd joined the staff at Glenville State College in 1988 serving as Head Coach of the women's basketball team, Athletic Director, and Chairman of the Physical Education Department.

Dr. Shepherd graduated from GSC with a double major of history and health/physical education. He attended graduate school at the University of Virginia where he obtained a Masters in PE and a Doctorate in counselling and PE.

After completing his education, Dr. Shepherd accepted a position at Elkins High School. He served as a basketball coach and counsellor for five years and as principal for the remaining eight years.

Dr. Shepherd enjoys the position he holds at GSC. When asked about coaching women's basketball he quickly responded, "The girls have been great." He stated that all the girls recruited have "over-all good grade point averages" and rarely pose any problems. The team has a great amount of sportsmanship as well. "Even when they lost they played a great game," Coach Shepherd elaborated.

Dr. Shepherd said the girls are always "fun to watch," but he cites as his favorite the game before nationals last season. The team played St. Vincent of Pennsylvania on St. Vincent's crowded home court. Coach Shepherd recalls the game as "a real struggle, but they didn't let it bother them. They played a great game," he proudly stated. The team advanced to the elite 16-team NAIA National Tournament in Kansas City by posting 100-98 win. Although the Lady Pioneers lost to top-seeded Chaffin, South Carolina in the first round of the tournament, they had a tremendous season. The team compiled a 19-7 over-all record including a 15-1 mark in the WVIAC to win the regular season title. In the 1988 season, the Lady Pioneers ended the season with a record of 17-7 and a third place title in the tournaments at Charleston.

As the Athletic Director, Dr. Shepherd has seen GSC's football team struggle over past seasons. He agrees that Coach Rodriguez will be an asset to the football program. "It will be difficult for a couple of years, but Coach Rodriguez is on the right track. He's been working hard," Shepherd stated. Football is harder than basketball because "you need more good players," he added.

At GSC, Dr. Shepherd would like to see athletics continue to improve. He hopes to see an advancement "not only in wins and losses but also in the number of student athletes who are successful later in life." Athletics teaches participants the important lesson of how to win and lose. "You have to be able to handle it and bounce back," he stated.

Dr. Shepherd hopes to see enhancement in the programs available at Glenville. He said steps are being taken to reinstate the health program into the curriculum. "It is important for our teachers to have certification in both PE and health," Shepherd believes.

Dr. Shepherd has made a favorable impression on his students and team members. "He turned the women's program around and brought more recognition to the team," stated senior Lisa Dolan. "He is understanding and fair. He's a really great coach - one of the best," said Marcia Moore, a junior.

It is not surprising that Dr. Shepherd enjoys sports in his leisure time. He considers himself a bit of a "sports fanatic" and believes "one of the greatest things is ESPN. My wife doesn't appreciate it, but I love it," he commented.

Dr. Shepherd and wife look forward to traveling extensively in the U.S. Europe also holds a special attraction for them. Riding a sternwheeler down the Mississippi River is another pleasure he and his wife anticipate.

Dr. Shepherd is married to the former Joy Gerwig from Gassaway whom he met during his college career at GSC. They are the parents of three children - a daughter, Marci, married to Andrew Davis who resides outside Harrisburg, PA; a son, Scott, a senior at Robert Morris College in Pittsburgh; and another son, Matt, who will graduate from Gilmer County High School in June.

Tenth Annual GSC Week was "One Week Of Fun"

Chris Derico, Drew Taylor, and Marcus Henshaw display their prizes after Casino Night. Drew won $25.00 for his first place finish.

GSC Week got underway on Monday, April 16 with Casino Night. Winners of the event were 1st place, Drew Taylor, $25.00; 2nd place, Marcus Henshaw $15.00; 3rd place, Chris Derico, $10.00.

On Wednesday, April 18, Bingo Night was held. Winners include:

Jimmy Little, $10.00; Kathy Roach, $20.00; Sally Smith, $10.00; Jackie Wolf, $10.00; Richard Maxwell, $10.00; Patricia Parkulo, $10.00; Waylon Province, $10.00; Kathy Copen, $20.00.

"The Feel" won 1st place in the Talent Show held on Thursday, April 19. The group included Bill Monterosso, Tim Cochran, Fred Travis, Gordon Cain, Sam Stophel, and Matt Hersom. The group donated their $50.00 1st place prize to Julie Darnell for her niece who is ill.

Artist, David Mandel, draws a sketch of Bill Monterosso. The caricaturist impressed many students with his artistic ability.

David Mandel appeared in the Pioneer Center Lobby on Tuesday. Mr. Mandel thrilled his audience by drawing sketches of students. Several students had their pictures drawn and were impressed by the lifelike reality of them. Several students wished Mr. Mandel had stayed more than just one day. They also said that the wait in line was well worth it. Although the rain forced the show indoors, it didn't dampen the spirits of the students or the caricaturist.

Belinda Dowler watches with excitement as the wheel comes to a stop. Belinda finished third in the Wheel of Fortune Game hosted by Drew Taylor.

GSC Week held many different activities, one of which was the pool party. It was held on Wednesday night. There was a wide variety of people that attended.

Even though we didn't have a tremendous turnout, there were quite a few observers in the stands which helped make the night a success.

The annual belly flopping contest was held and a pool party wouldn't be complete without Drew Taylor's convulsion fish dive. Other games such as basketball were amusingly observed.

Marcus Henshaw competes in the game show "Win, Lose, or Draw." Marcus finished first in the event.

One of GSC Week's main highlights was Game Show night. Students participated in Wheel of Fortune; Win, Lose, or Draw; Name That Tune; Pioneer Feud; and the Roommate Game. The winners were as follows: Wheel of Fortune- Marcus Henshaw, Robin Dodrill, and Belinda Dowler; Win, Lose, or Draw- Jim Shock, Sarah Knapp, FiFi Araya, Tracy Chapman, Laura Messenger, and Paula Rexroad;

Name That Tune- Sharon Rose Gary Withrow, Jim Shock, Sarah Knapp; Pioneer Feud- The DZ team Tracy Chapman, Renae Snyder Paula Rexroad, Michelle Jordan and Tricia Stout. The Smith family Jerry Schill, Gary Withrow, Melvin Smith, Gary Messenger, and Richard Maxwell. Roommate Game- Paul Rexroad and MaryAlice Maher.

Cash prizes were awarded to the winners of each game.

Scot Montgomery and Sharon Rose call numbers during Bingo.

The North Tower Band performed for the Annual Spring Ball.

Kris Rogers, Master of Ceremonies, "was pleased to see such a large crowd at the Variety Show last week." A congratulatory statement is at hand for the first place winner, "The Feel;" second place, Rap-A-Dap-A-Do; and third place, Ed Henline. In the shuffle and confusion of the evening, a number of well deserving people failed to receive proper recognition. So in an act of redemption, sincere thanks is expressed to the following: Vezpor, for the use of their sound system (especially Adam Stevenson for helping carry it); Mike McKibbin, Angie Cox and Edith Fleming for running the lights; Mike Miller and Scot Montgomery for being stage hands; the judges (Laura Nauman, Kris Vanhorn, Dreama Conoway, and Rick O'Brien); Bill Monterosso for helping organize the show; Janet Rogers for keeping the show organized; and the audience for attending and displaying enthusiasm. The biggest pat on the back goes to all those who were brave enough and dedicated enough to get their "act" together. Without the performers, there could not have been a Variety Show. Thanks to all.

Alicia Hess or Madonna? Mr. Kolisch made Alicia dance like Madonna.

John Kolisch a world famous hypnotist, was one of the featured activities of GSC Week.

Mr. Kolisch entertained the audience with the help of a few of our very own students.

Sixteen students participated by being hypnotized. They did a wide variety of activities - from being hot to cold, having ants on them, feeding seagulls, and imitating their favorite artists.

The participating students were brought back to reality when they exited the auditorium.

Mr. Kolisch proved that the mind is a very powerful instrument: that when tapped into can amaze even the doubtful.

A carnival atmosphere was felt by students participating in the events held on the football field on Thursday. The weather was sunny and breezy all afternoon. Students sacrificed their self-esteem and their bodies for an afternoon of fun. Everyone enjoyed the games, food, and sunshine. The free frisbees and balloons were a special feature. Children of all ages enjoyed the fun. Several events were held throughout the day including the diaper relay, four-legged race, dizzy bat, leap frog, and the fire truck ball relay. Many students participated in the events, as well as faculty and staff members. All in all, the day was a terrific success and everyone seemed to be having a wonderful time!

Miss Whiting has served on the GSC Alumni Executive Council since 1983 having served as secretary, vice-president, president and is now a permanent council member. She has been called upon many times and is always willing to help.

Whiting has been employed in the public schools in Ritchie, Mason, and Gilmer counties. She also taught two years at the Colin Anderson Center. She currently teaches special education at Gilmer County High School.

Miss Whiting earned her BA from Glenville State College in 1970 and her MA from West Virginia University in 1972. She has also done additional work at the College of Graduate Studies and at Marshall University. # Mercury Celebrates 60th Year

The Glenville Mercury will be celebrating its 60th birthday on Saturday, April 28th.

A brunch will be held for former staffers and advisors. At 1 p.m. an informal tea with coffee, commemorative cake, and punch will be served in the Mercury office.

Four of the five living advisors will be attending this brunch. Dr. Espy W. Miller of Glenville who will be here was an advisor for the Mercury from 1946-1949. He inspired many students as a professor of English. He served as Chairman of the Language Division and as Parade Marshal last fall.

E.B. Elder of Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, will also be attending the brunch. He served as an advisor from 1949-1955. Students' success as professional newspapermen can be attributed to the expert instruction offered by Professor Elder, a veteran newspaperman.

Virginia West, Troy, another former Mercury advisor, will also attend Saturday's festivities. Miss West was one of Glenville's finest and most valued professors. She was a professor of English and Chairman of the Language Division. She ended her long, successful 42 year career by retiring from the faculty of GSC in 1983.

Mrs. Yvonne King, who has been the Advisor for the Mercury since 1966, will also attend Saturday's festivities as the inspiration of the Diamond Anniversary. She was taught by each of these professors, with both Mr. Elder and Miss West serving as advisors for her work on The Glenville Mercury which she served as Editor-in-chief.

Mr. Everett Withers was the first advisor to the Glenville Mercury which was begun in 1929. At that time, no paper had been printed since 1923 when The Tower ceased publication due to lack of subscriptions. At that time only three hours were offered in journalism.

Mr. Linn Hickman served as advisor from 1936-1945; Mr. Tom Larson from 1964-1966; Miss Opal Vincent (Starcher) 1945-1946.

The paper has gone from 20 inches, 6 columns, to 15 inches, 5 columns to 13 inches - from letterpress to offset, from newsprint to glossy white, and most recently to electronic printing.

With new computers, scanners and laser printers, the paper is now camera ready when it leaves the Mercury office. Pictures are now developed and printed by staff photographers for the Mercury and 27 hours of classes are offered for a journalism minor.

A year's subscription was offered in the Fall of 1929 as a prize to the one who submitted the best name for the newspaper. The prize was won by Carmen Rinehart Moss.

SPORTS By Michael Hart

Hart's Headlines

Now that summer is just around the corner, it is time to get the old body out into the sun for a little exercise.

Although many of us try to avoid the invigorating act of exercise, it is the primary key to staying fit.

Many people have no trouble starting an exercise, sticking with it is the hard part. Most of those starting an exercise program reach a peak in which results are difficult to see and they go back to being a couch potato.

Fitness people have problems controlling workout habits when choosing a program. When starting a program, how many exercises should you do? Should you do a lot of exercise in a workout or focus on a select few?

You shouldn't use too much exercise in a workout, because it increases the load volume, which in turn reduces the training effect.

However, a small number of exercises done over and over becomes monotonous and brings increased fatigue. Then, both the number of exercises, and the number of repetitions should be kept within strict limits. These limits are usually established by the person's ability.

The best exercise routine I have found to be helpful is about 8-12 exercises per workout, with about 3-4 sets of 8-12 reps each.

Whatever exercise program you decide on, remember to train within your limits and vary your workout as your body reaches its peak. Exercise can be your key to a better, healthier life, and there is no better time to get started than the present.

Rodriguez Praises Gridders

Coach Rich Rodriguez had nothing but good things to say after Monday's Blue and White Game. He said the purpose of the game was to put the players in a game situation, to see how they would react on a game day. Apparently, the coach thinks his team reacted well. "They've done an overall good job this Spring," he stated. "The fifty-plus guys who made it through, all deserve to be on the team."

Coach Rodriguez says his main goals have been "to try to have the coaches and players thinking 'winning football,'" and "to be committed to the program and academics." He feels both of these goals are being reached.

The final score was 12-3 with the Blue Team winning. Individual MVP honors went to Brian Tustin and Tom Hoffman who each played both offense and defense.

Shooting Claims Student

A tragic, unexplained shooting has taken the life of Carla Doctor, a student at Glenville State College in the fall of 1989.

Carla, 18, was shot to death Thursday, April 12, in the living room of a friend's house. Seventeen-year-old Taurus D. Hollis has been charged with second-degree murder and was sent to the Bridge House juvenile detention center, with bail set at $150,000. The two were watching television in Hollis' home when Carla was shot. It hasn't been determined whether the shooting was deliberate or accidental.

The single gunshot wound that ended Carla's life has left her family and friends mystified. "I just don't understand why it happened," said her brother, Larry Doctor. "There was no reason for it, no reason for her to even be there at that house."

Rosetta Taylor, Carla's cousin, said "It was just so unnecessary. You keep thinking she'll be home soon, even though you know she won't be coming back."

Taylor spoke about how much Carla enjoyed church. Carla and her mother used to attend church several times a week at the Revival Fellowship Church. After her mother's death a few years ago, Carla remained active in church. "She sang in the choir, and she could really lead a song. She had a lot of friends in that church," Taylor said.

Carla was a graduate of Concord High School where she played on the basketball team and ran track. She attended GSC in the fall of 1989. Carla had talked about becoming a corporate lawyer, but she enjoyed her first psychology course and had considered pursuing that field.

AIDS Conference Planned

Ten West Virginia AIDS organizations will come together for the first time in Charleston Saturday, April 28 from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., for a skills building conference, focusing on subjects such as volunteer recruitment, fundraising and social services resources.

Held at the West Virginia University Health Center at the Memorial Division of CAMC, representatives from all the state AIDS organizations are expected to attend.

"All of the AIDS organizations in West Virginia are volunteer and most are just concerned citizens who want to help fight AIDS," said Terri Lee, member of the board of Directors for the Charleston AIDS network. "But because they're volunteers they need help in organizing and setting up their groups so that they are effective and lasting."

Scheduled to give the keynote address is Peter Lee, Executive Director of the National AIDS Network in Washington, D.C. A speaker (to be announced) will comment on minority AIDS and HIV infection and its impact on the minority community. Other speakers are statewide experts in their fields.

"We feel very fortunate to have quality speakers like these who are willing to give up their time to talk with West Virginia AIDS organizations," said Sarah Bass, community based organization liason with the AIDS Prevention Program, West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources. "All of our groups are in different stages of development so the variety of workshops will be valuable to everyone."

The conference is being sponsored by the AIDS Prevention Program and the West Virginia Coalition of AIDS Networks, which includes the Charleston AIDS Network, the AIDS Network of the Upper Ohio Valley, the Mid-Ohio Valley AIDS Task Force, the Mountain State AIDS Network and the Huntington AIDS Task Force.

North Carolina Land of Employment Opportunity

Many GSC grads and others are moving to North Carolina in droves. North Carolina is now a prosperous state offering many job opportunities. In the past year some 5,000 West Virginians have moved to the "tar heel" state, including some 30 GSC grads. Charlotte and Raleigh are the two areas featuring the most growth. The growth occurred mainly by northern companies moving south.

Charlotte, population 314,450, has had an increase in several thousand jobs in the past year. The city boasts a national speedway, an international airport, several malls, schools of every type, and other fine features. The Appalachian foothill city is just three hours from the Atlantic Ocean. Raleigh, population 150,055, features the state capitol complex, a cultural center, several museums and more. The state capitol is ideally located midway between the Virginia mountains and the Atlantic Ocean, and is easily accessible to Interstate

Other parts of the state are growing, but at a much slower rate than the two hot spots. Experts do not predict a decline in North Carolina's economy even in the distant future. Although a few companies have laid off employees, many companies are relocating there this very year.

Other southern states are also attracting West Virginians, but not to the extent of the tar heel state.

Social Security Administration Hires Employees

The position available is Claims Representative. This position offers the opportunity to provide a service to the public--people already receiving Social Security benefits

K.C. Houston, Tx. File #195 I was working 2 jobs and just barely getting by. I began using your program 2 months ago and I now make more money in 1 month than I did all last year. Thank-you so much for your easy to operate program.

M.L. Sterling, Va. File #225 I have never seen a program so easy to operate as yours. Believe me I have sent for numerous so called get rich schemes. None of them worked and they just cost me money. I started your program for less than $10.00 and I now earn over $24,000.00 per month. Thank-you so much.
