GSC Fall Enrollment at 2,391

The unofficial enrollment at Glenville State College for fall 1992 has reached an all-time high of 2,391. This represents the seventh consecutive year that enrollment has topped 2,000 students.

The enrollment, which includes students from every West Virginia county and other states, includes a record number of freshman at 792.

According to GSC President Dr. William Simmons, "This year's record enrollment is a reflection of the public confidence in the quality of education at Glenville State College. While enrollment is not the sole measure of quality or success, it is a good indicator of the high esteem with which Glenville State College and Glenville State College Alumni are held."

Mack Samples, dean of records and admissions at GSC, reports that growth is strong in all areas. "We are seeing higher numbers on campus, at the Summersville Center and in our extension classes in the area. We are also attracting more out-of-state students and more international students." Samples went on to say that he was expecting a slight drop in head count enrollment because of the loss of the Parkersburg campus. "We easily made up the Parkersburg loss in other areas," Samples added.

The full-time equivalent (FTE) is 1,914 up 2.5 percent from last year. The FTE figure is determined by dividing the total number of hours for which students are enrolled by 15. Fifteen hours represents the Higher Education Board's figure for a full-time equivalent student.

Gameroom Adds Snackbar

by Stephanie Phillips

Gameroom manager Roger Weese would like to invite everyone to come down and check out the new facilities.

The hours of the bowling alley's, pool tables and games are 3-10 p.m. The snackbar is open from 5 until 9 p.m.

There are now five pool tables, six bowling alleys and a few video games.

For students, faculty and staff the price to bowl is $1.00 a game and the pool tables are $2.40 an hour. For the general public to bowl one game is $1.25.

Weese added that there will soon be a family night with special rates between 6:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. Flyers will be posted around campus giving details about family night.

Weese welcomes any suggestions to what the students would like to see in the snackbar. The gameroom is located in the basement of the Heflin Center.

Library Open House

Opening ceremonies for the new VTLS system will be held on October 1 at 2:00 p.m. in the Robert F. Kidd Library on the main floor. The purpose of this ceremony is to express appreciation to all the individuals on and off campus who helped in making the system possible. One of the guests of honor will be the state librarian, Fred Glazer.

The library will be open to all patrons during the ceremony. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Library's VTLS System Going Strong

by David Riffe

The VTLS is a relatively easy system to operate. First off, the student must register for a card at the circulation desk. Every person that has a college I.D. card will have a bar code put on the back of it. Part-time students and community patrons will have a library card issued to them.

Over half of the 120,000 books in the library are now available through the new VTLS terminals located throughout the library. The terminals will show you ways in which you may search for a book. The three most common and effective ways to search are by author, title or by subject. For example, if you want to find out if the library owns Marco Polo by Robert N. Webb, you may find it in any of three ways.

To find it by the author, type in: a/Webb, Robert N. You will find that the library has two books by Webb, one on Genghis Kahn and the one you want on Marco Polo.

You can also find it by the title. Type in: t/ followed by the title of the book. You can use up to the first four words of the title, ignoring "A," "An," or "The" if it is the first word of the title.

To find a book by its subject, type in: s/ Marco Polo. If you search by author, title or subject, you will find the same information which includes the call number of the book, and the "line mark status" will tell you if it is available, if it has been checked out, or if it is on reserve. If it is available, the book will be on the shelf ready to be checked out.

As was mentioned in last week's issue, the VTLS can locate a book in other college libraries and public libraries in West Virginia. So to find a book at another location, just ask at the circulation desk.

Friedman is New Face at Library Circulation Desk

by David Riffe

Jane Friedman, a December 1991 graduate of Glenville State College, has recently been employed at Robert F. Kidd Library. On August 5, Friedman entered the library, not as a college student, but as the new library clerk.

After earning a bachelor's degree in business management at GSC, she started searching through the newspaper ads to find the job that was right for her. Friedman likes being helpful to others, so being a library clerk fulfills her best interests. Some of her tasks include handling the circulation desk, which primarily consists of checking in and out books. She also sends overdue notices and assists in helping students locate library material they need.

Friedman worked at Calhoun General Hospital as an admissions clerk. Her job responsibilities included answering telephone calls, giving directions and having initial contact with patients. However, she found working in the hospital was very stressful, so she came to GSC to begin work on her degree.

Friedman encourages students to take advantage of the library. The staff will do everything possible to help them out.

Originally from Calhoun County, Friedman now resides in Alum Bridge, Lewis County. She likes to spend her spare time with her three children, Lea Anne, 14, Nicholas, 10, and Hans, 9.

Rich Named Adviser to Mercury, Kanawachen

by John Putnam

Judy Rich was recently appointed adviser to The Glenville Mercury and The Kanawachen and is also teaching English 101 and Journalism 321 as well. She obtained her B.A. in English and speech at Union College in Kentucky and later a M.A. in speech and drama at the University of Kentucky. She has also done post-graduate work in English and speech at Ball State University in Indiana.

Prior to teaching at GSC, Rich also taught speech at Mansfield State College in Pennsylvania and English and speech at West Virginia Tech. She was later employed at West Virginia Public Radio as editor of the monthly program guide and traffic manager for six years. Most recently she served as secretary in the GSC Media Center from September 1991 to August 1992.

Most people in Glenville came to know Rich best as the editor of the Glenville Democrat. Last month her 1991 editorial on the hiring practices of the Gilmer County Board of Education was named "best single editorial" in the West Virginia Press Association's Better Newspaper Contest.

Rich is involved in the local community as a member of the Gilmer County Industrial Development Association and the Board of Directors of Patchwork in the Glen--both of which are organizations whose goals are to promote economic growth in Gilmer County. She also serves as president of the Glenville branch of the American Association of University Women and is a member of the Lewis-Gilmer Solid Waste Authority.

Rich enjoys anything that has to do with news. "I'm a news junky, and I especially like politics. A presidential election year for me is great entertainment." The joy of being a journalist, she says, is that "you have the right and the responsibility to ask as many questions as you want to ask about an issue."

Judy Rich currently resides in Glenville and is married to Harry Rich, associate professor of music at GSC. They have two children, David, a freshman at GSC, and Rebecca, a junior at Gilmer County High School.

Dates for General Studies Assessment Announced

Each student enrolled in a bachelor's degree program will be required to complete an examination of the General Studies Program. The results of this assessment program will be used for the purposes of curriculum assessment and design. The multiple-choice examination will not be considered a gateway examination.

Students who have completed 60 semester hours but not more than 75 semester hours will register and complete the General Studies Assessment during the time period of October 12 to 22. Students must register on a first-come, first-serve basis by contacting the Director of Assessment, Dr. Sharon Kraus, Clark Hall.

Students who have completed 75 hours of course work will not be permitted to register for additional work until they have completed the General Studies Assessment.

Please note: Students who have completed 75 hours at the beginning of the fall semester 1992 are exempt. Students who have not completed 60 hours at the beginning of the fall semester 1992 are not ready to participate this semester.

The General Studies Assessment will be administered in the Computer Lab in the Administration Building.

Attention May and December Graduates

Radio Shack will be on campus to conduct interviews on Friday, October 2, at 10:00 a.m. To sign up for an interview, please stop by the Placement Office as soon as possible. A resume will need to be prepared. Information for this can also be obtained in the Placement Office.

CAMPUS KIBITZ

by Anthony Riffe

Recently a Marshall University student was abducted and sexually assaulted. Marshall's newspaper, The Parthenon, printed the name and address of the rape victim. Do you feel the press should have the right to print information of such a personal nature?

NAME: Drema Conaway
POSITION: Secretary GCIDA
HOMETOWN: Glenville, WV
ANSWER: "No, I think they should print the name of the person who committed the crime. It's difficult enough to go through the trauma of being sexually assaulted without having your name and address printed. The news media should have a little more sympathy for the victim."

NAME: Jeremy Brown
RANK: Senior
MAJOR: Business Management
HOMETOWN: Camden On Gauley, WV
ANSWER: "As the campus paper, I don't feel they have the right to print the name and address of the victim, but there again you have the fine line of freedom of the press."

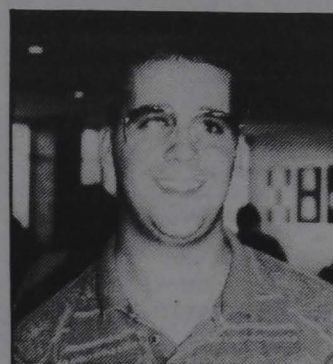

NAME: Teresa Sauers
RANK: Junior
MAJOR: Behavioral Science
HOMETOWN: Weston, WV
ANSWER: "I think it should be up to the victim. I think they should decide if they want their name and stuff published."

NAME: Brandon Britton
RANK: Sophomore
MAJOR: Criminal Justice
HOMETOWN: Sutton, WV
ANSWER: "I think it would be better to give the name than to have rumors going around. I hope it doesn't happen here."

NAME: Doug James
RANK: Freshman
MAJOR: Criminal Justice
HOMETOWN: Normantown, WV
ANSWER: "I don't believe they have the right to do that because she's the victim and she's under enough pressure as it is and that would just make matters worse."

Editorial

by Sharon Gladwell

Should a newspaper editor have the liberty to publish anything that he wants to print? Although the Bill of Rights states that the press has this freedom, reporters should use good judgment and a more ethical approach when writing, especially when the story involves revealing personal information. In regard to this, the editor of The Parthenon, Marshall University's campus newspaper took his freedom to the limit.

Just recently, a young lady student at Marshall was raped. The editor of the newspaper took the freedom of printing the names of the victim and the alleged rapist without consideration of the assaulted lady's self-respect and privacy.

Although one of the responsibilities of an editor is to serve the public with news, he must also consider his readers' feedback and anticipate how much of an impact his story will have. In this case, the editor seems to have forgotten some significant responsibilities and duties.

Pioneers Crush WV State 35-6

The GSC Pioneer Football Team bounced back from a tough loss last week to beat the Yellowjackets of West Virginia State 35-6 at Pioneer Stadium. West Virginia State came into the game ranked 5th nationally, while GSC was ranked 17th in the nation.

In last week's loss to Shepherd, the Pioneers turned the ball over 7 times, but this week only 2 turnovers were recorded, while State would lose possession of the ball 9 times due to turnovers on Saturday. Third-year head coach Rich Rodriguez commented on the performance of the Pioneers, "We played well on both sides of the ball, especially on defense." According to Rodriguez one of the keys to Saturday's victory was last week's practice. "Last week was the best week of practice this year."

The defense led the way intercepting State quarterback Pat Rinard 8 times, and 1 interception was returned 68 yards by linebacker Chuck Hython for a touchdown. Defensive back Frantz Pago returned a fumble 30 yards for a touchdown. Randall Olds recorded 2 quarterback sacks and Jerry Pitts intercepted 3 passes.

Pioneer quarterback Jed Drenning got back on track by completing 21 of 43 passes for 328 yards, 2 touchdowns and was intercepted only once. Wide receiver Chris George caught 10 passes for 189 yards and 2 touchdowns. On the ground Shane Haddox compiled 76 yards on 19 carries.

Next week, the Pioneers open a four-week road trip with a game at West Liberty. Kickoff for next week's game is set for 1:00 p.m. Rodriguez commented on the big road trip, "You never look forward to leaving on the road four weeks, but look forward to get it started against West Liberty."

Staff Council to Sponsor Turkey Shoot, Bake Sale

The Glenville State College Classified Staff Council is sponsoring a turkey shoot and bake sale on Saturday, October 3, at the shooting range from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Twelve and twenty-gauge shotguns will be permitted, but sleeved or modified guns are prohibited. There will be no alcoholic beverages allowed on the premises.

Money raised from the shooting match and bake sale will be used to provide Staff Council Scholarships and staff tuition waivers and to promote activities for classified staff throughout the year.

Classified staff are encouraged to support the shooting match and to donate items for the bake sale. For further information, please contact Jim Tatman, Edsel Dewese, Doris Williams or Eleanor Nicholas.

Kathy Szeliga Named 12th Fan

by Sharon Gladwell

Kathy Szeliga is GSC's twelfth fan. Szeliga bought the winning raffle ticket that gave her this title from Tri-Sigma. As the winner, she was filmed by Mark Loudin throwing a football to Pioneer mascot William James during half-time of the game.

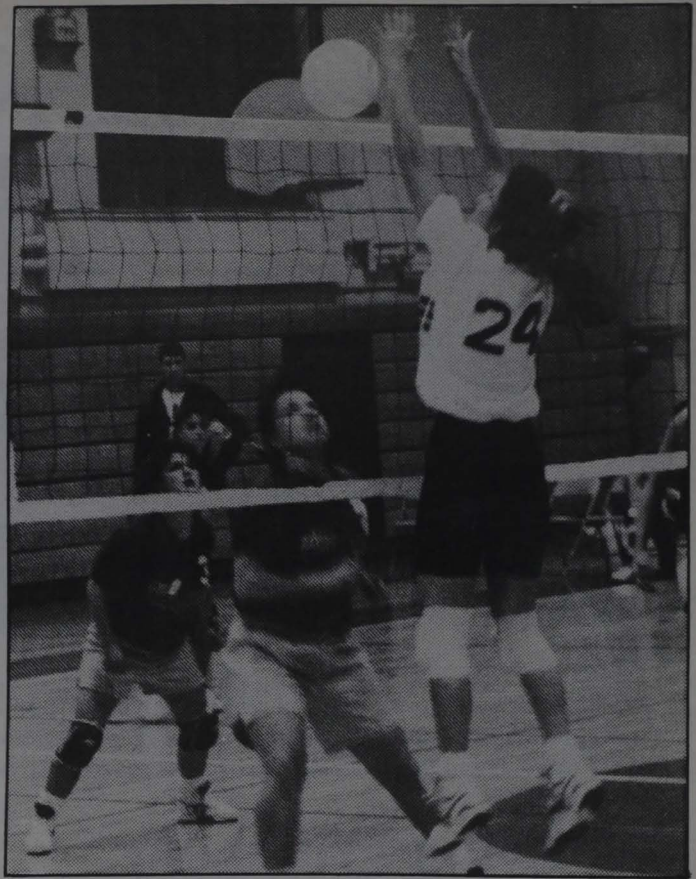

Szeliga also won a baseball cap and a football jersey with the number 12 and her name printed on it. "A true Pioneer always shows school spirit whether you're winning or losing," commented Szeliga.

Lady Spikers return a serve against Fairmont.

by Sean Davis

"This week during practice, we are going back to the basics. We've got to work on fundamentals and skills," commented head volleyball coach Kenny Osbourne on his squad going 0-5 last week.

The Lady Pioneers were dealt a serious blow as they lost starter Stephanie Ferrell for at least four weeks and maybe for the season as she broke a bone in her left wrist on Monday night.

Tuesday, the women travelled to Concord and lost in four games, by scores of 10-15, 1-15, 15-6, 15-17. Nikki Hardman had 9 kills and setter Patsy Buckles added 20 assists and 10 digs.

The Lady Pioneers held their first home match of the year against Fairmont on Thursday. The Lady White Falcons dealt the Lady Pioneers a 15-12, 0-15, 2-15, 3-15 set back. Hardman had 5 kills and 8 blocks, while Buckles added 9 assists.

On Saturday, the women travelled to the Fairmont State College Tournament as they opened with a match against Waynesburg, Pa., and lost in three straight 8-15, 12-15, 10-15. Hardman stepped up with 6 kills and 7 blocks, while Buckles added 7 assists. The next match was Fairmont State and the Lady Pioneers lost to them for the second time in three days by scores of 7-15, 6-15, 9-15. Kim Sees recorded three aces, while Hardman had 8 blocks and 5 kills. Then the squad from Clairon, Pa., beat the Lady Pioneers 3-15, 14-16, 10-15, as their record falls to 4-13 overall with a 0-2 record in conference play.

After a busy opening season that saw the Lady Spikers play seventeen matches in 18 days with all but one on the road, they play only one match this week which will be Thursday as they host the Lady Tigers of Salem-Teikyo at 7:00 p.m.

Wheeling Symphony Provides Warm Evening

by David Graham

On Friday, September 25, the Glenville community had the honor of hearing the Wheeling Symphony under the direction of Maestra Rachael Worby. As a frequent visitor to the symphony, I was quite surprised to find how informal it was. Not being a music major, I found Maestra Worby's background information on particular instruments and on each piece very informal and educational. Not only was she warm in her speaking but she made me feel that I was talking to a friend instead of a stranger. I felt as if I were welcome on stage, and, in fact, I was. Members of the audience were invited on stage to sit with the symphony during the performance of Mozart's Concertante for Violin, Viola and Orchestra. She also asked members of the audience for their opinions on the music.

A surprising asset to the performance were the Kavafian sisters. Their relationship and the way they performed on stage brought a special touch to the music. Even if the audience had not been aware of their relationship, they could have seen it through their performance. Their graceful motions brought not only warmth to the music, but also a touch of excitement. It was truly a pleasure to see them perform.

Maestra Worby's program gave us a taste of music spanning four centuries. After the first couple of measures, it was apparent by the audience reaction that the music was warmly received. The music continued to hold the audience's attention until the finale.

The evening was unorthodox, but in a good way in that it broke down the stereotypes of the stuffy symphony. The atmosphere of the performance was not only a surprise to me but to others in attendance as well. Worby brought the symphony to such a personal level that it would be hard not to appreciate the warmth of the performance.

Patchwork Fall Fest is This Weekend

Looking for something to do this weekend? Well, you don't have to look any farther than downtown Glenville. Patchwork in the Glen is sponsoring a Patchwork Fall Fest on Friday and Saturday, October 2 and 3.

Festivities will include square dancing Friday and Saturday evenings beginning at 7:30, pony rides, horse shoes, jam sessions, craft classes, craft demonstrations and craft sales. Food of all varieties will be available from street vendors.

The festival will begin with the Gilmer County High School Homecoming Parade on Friday at 1:30 p.m. If you or your organization would like to have a space reserved for selling, call 462-8698. Musicians who are interested in performing may call the same number.

Movie Review

Death Becomes Her

by Melissa Riffe

"Death Becomes Her" is a recently released comedy-thriller starring Goldie Hawn, Meryl Streep, and Bruce Willis, to name a few. The movie's plot revolves around the desire for eternal life and beauty.

Both characters, Streep's and Hawn's, do not exactly find the fountain of youth in their search for immortality. A witch of sorts sells them a magical potion which transforms them into their indestructible new forms. Hawn and Streep quickly become intense rivals, with Bruce Willis caught in the middle, and that's where the fun begins. Although, at times, this movie stinks with the stench of "Beatle Juice" it's a lot funnier and definitely has more plot. "Death Becomes Her" is excellent if you are in the mood for this type of zany thriller. This may not be exactly the type of film we are used to seeing Streep perform in, but she gives an interesting performance. Hawn and Willis also do quite a job. "Death Becomes Her" receives a double thumbs up, and is worth the price of admission.

Larry McCray and Band 'Played it From the Heart'

by Delbert Starcher

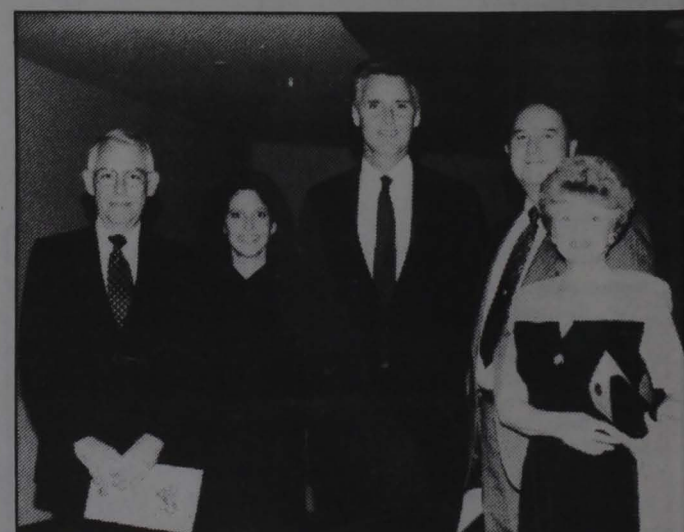

On Monday, September 21, Larry McCray and his Blues Band performed in the auditorium of the Arts and Music Building. The band consisted of Larry McCray on the lead guitar, Noel Kneal on bass, the Reverend Tony Zamagny, and Larry McCray's little brother Steve on keyboard and drums.

This small band filled the room with stirring music and song. Not only did we feel the music from the vibrations filling the auditorium, but it probed deep within our bodies to release emotions and excitement. The audience seemed to be very pleased with the performance and happy to have attended.

The group looked as though they felt their music and played it from the heart, experiencing great pleasure as they played.

Dr. Gary Gillespie, chairman of the fine arts division, said that the band was different from the others he had met. He said that they cooperated with the students and were very friendly toward everyone they met.

Sigmas Hold First Meeting

The Delta Alpha Chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma wants to welcome everyone back to school and a special hello to all of the incoming freshman.

The Sigmas held their first meeting on August 26 and plans for Formal Rush were discussed. We are looking for a good Rush Week this year.

Girls interested in learning more about Sigma or Greek life may ask any Sigma Sister and we'll be more than happy to help.

Congratulations to Ellen Mullens, Sandy Jones and Melissa Rigglemen on Big Sister

Week. It was a tough one, but you all pulled through like champs.

We also have a Sigma Sweetheart this month. Lots of love and thanks to Bobby Sandy for all his help with preparing for the Movies and Munchies Night. We really appreciated your help.

A big thank you goes out to all of the girls who attended Movies and Munchies, and we hope you had a good time. We hope to see you soon.

Happy birthday goes out to Tina Langford, who just turned 21 recently. We love you.

Chi Beta Phi

by Sharon Gladwell

Chi Beta Phi had its first picnic of the semester Thursday, September 24. "It was a new way to induct new members," said Cathy Marks, president of the organization.

The picnic was held at the Gilmer County Recreational Center. Both faculty and students were invited to attend. Hamburgers, hot dogs and snacks were served. After eating, everyone took part in playing tennis, basketball, throwing a football or just talking.

"I think it went great, and everyone seemed to have fun," Marks commented. Marks encourages more to become members. For those who have an interest in math and/or science and would like to join, a Chi Beta Phi meeting will be held on Thursday, October 1, at 12:30 p.m. in room 301, Science Hall.

Pioneers in Nursing

The Pioneers in Nursing held their first pizza sale on September 22. We would like to thank Pizza Hut for providing the pizza, Go-Mart for donating Coke, Sprite and Diet Coke, and the Conrad Motel for supplying ice to our organization. Most of all, we want to thank everyone who bought our pizza or pop--You helped make our sale a success.

GRE Testing to Begin in October

The Graduate Record Examinations (GRE) Program will begin offering the GRE general test on computer in mid-October. This fall's GRE Computer-Based Test (CBT) will be virtually the same as the current paper-and-pencil version. The CBT is scored in the same manner as the paper-and-pencil test, and score interpretive information is the same. The GRE Program conducted a pilot test of the CBT, and thorough analyses of the test results of more than 1,000 examinees who participated in the pilot showed that scores from the paper-and-pencil test and the computer-delivered test were comparable.

The CBT will be administered at least three days a week in about 100 centers throughout the United States, including ETS Field Service Offices, Sylvan Learning Center branches and some universities and colleges. Examinees can register for the CBT by using the registration form in the center of the CBT Supplement to the 1992-93 GRE Information Bulletin (see the Placement Office for a copy).
