Wasserstein's Pulitzer Prize Winning 'The Heidi Chronicles' Opens Tonight

by David Graham

"All people deserve the right to fulfill their potential" sets the tone of the play "The Heidi Chronicles" by Wendy Wasserstein which is to be presented on the February 24, 25 and 26 in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

Under the direction of Nancy Wemm, the play gives the audience a glimpse into history. The play chronicles the women's and gay lib movements and how they affected the people of the time.

The play also provides insight as to what made the Baby Boomers who they are today. Wemm commented that when she first saw Hillary Clinton on television, the character Heidi instantly came to mind.

Wemm said that "The Heidi Chronicles" is a very modern play, and staging it proved very difficult because it is written in a cinematic style. The play travels to several different cities and covers the time from 1965 to present.

There are several new faces in this production, and the play offers to some cast members the challenge of playing several roles. Wemm says that the cast has greeted the play with nothing but "dedication and energy."

"The Heidi Chronicles," which won the 1989 Pulitzer Prize for drama, makes us look at ourselves in many different and amazing ways.

The play includes strong language and deals with adult situations. Wemm recommends that parents should be aware of this before bringing children.

TKE Adopts-A-Highway to Help Keep the County Clean

A joint announcement was made by the West Virginia Divisions of Highways and Natural Resources that GSC's Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity has joined the state's anti-litter efforts in the Adopt-A-Highway program by agreeing to keep litter free two miles of highway in the area of the north entrance of the campus, across campus to College Street and Main Street.

The local chairman for the project is Jim Weekley who announced that the group made its first litter pickup on Thursday, February 18, which was the first of six general litter pickups the group will make in a two-year period. There are many two-mile stretches still waiting to be adopted by civic, church, fraternal, youth and business groups.

The Division of Highways has furnished safety vests, trash bags and trucks to haul

Nottingham Appointed Director of Student Life

by Lisa Hayes and Todd Pettit

After spending over three years in Glenville State's Placement Office, Jennifer Nottingham has left that position to replace Laura Nauman as Director of Student Life. Nauman resigned her position in order to attend graduate school.

Nottingham received her M.A. in counseling and guidance from West Virginia University and her undergraduate degree in psychology from Fairmont State College. She is the wife of Gary Nottingham, lecturer in physical education and head coach of the Pioneer basketball team.

In addition to her work experience at Glenville State College, Nottingham also has worked within the public school system. Before coming to the Placement Office, she worked as a counselor at Nicholas County Junior High School.

As director of student life, Nottingham is the adviser to the Panhellenic Council and director of residence life and food service. In addition, her responsibilities also include sororities, fraternities and the game room.

One project Nottingham recently undertook was to provide a drug-free party for youngsters in the community. She co-anchored a four-hour party on the GSC campus in cooperation with Substance Abuse Concerns Interagency (SACIT), a program designed to battle drug abuse. Children ranging from ages one to 17 were invited to enjoy a concert, swimming, bowling and sporting activities.

When asked how she felt about her new position, Nottingham replied, "I get to see and meet a greater variety of students; I really enjoy it. It has been a great experience so far. I just want students to know that I'm available if they need counseling."

Nottingham's office is located in the Student Services Office, Administration Building.

A Black History Month Tribute

Celebrated Afro-Americans—Dizzy Gillespie

by David Graham

Jazz trumpeter John Birks "Dizzy" Gillespie was best known as the co-creator (with Charlie Parker) of be-bop.

Dizzy's balloon-like cheeks, wild, on-stage antics and famous up-turned horn (bent accidentally during horseplay at a nightclub) made him the most recognizable musician of the be-bop era.

Gillespie was born in Cheraw, South Carolina, the youngest of James and Lottie Gillespie's nine children. He took up the trumpet in the third grade, and after the ninth grade he left his home town to attend Laurinburg Technical Institute in North Carolina.

He dropped out his senior year in order to move to Philadelphia where he played one-night stands in jazz clubs.

Gillespie eventually landed a position in the Frankie Fairfax band where he picked up his nickname. He recounted the story in his 1979 autobiography, To Be or Not To Bop: "One day, I was playing the piano before rehearsal. When I got up from the piano, Fats Palmer looked across at my empty seat in the trumpet section and cracked a joke. 'Where's Dizzy, man?' Everybody started laughing. My name has been Dizzy to everybody ever since; even my wife calls me that."

When talking about be-bop, the music that changed jazz forever, Gillespie commented: "I'm not surprised that [be-bop] is still flourishing, because it was bona fide music. Anything bona fide will stay around."

Dizzy Gillespie himself had been around. He has received numerous awards, including the Kennedy Center Honor and the Grammy Lifetime Achievement Award, and he has made over 500 recordings.

Although Dizzy Gillespie recently left us, his musical legacy will live in jazz forever.

The six things you can do that are most likely to keep you healthy are: don't smoke; drink alcohol in moderation if at all; exercise strenuously at least twice a week; eat a balanced diet high in fruits and vegetables, low in fat and sugar; stay within your weight limit; and get regular checkups.

Editorial Does History Repeat Itself?

I remember in grade school asking my history teacher, "Why do we have to learn this? When will I ever need this knowledge?" You may never need to know U.S. or even world history, but through reading you can discover innumerable interesting facts about it.

The events related here occurred exactly 100 years apart.

Both President Lincoln and President Kennedy were concerned with civil rights issues. Lincoln was elected in 1860, Kennedy in 1960. Both were shot from behind in the head. Johnson was the name of their successors; both were southern democrats with seats in the senate. Andrew Johnson was born in 1808, Lyndon Johnson in 1908.

John Wilkes Booth, the man who shot and killed Lincoln, was born in 1839. Lee Harvey Oswald, the man who shot and killed Kennedy was born in 1939. Both Oswald and Booth were southerners who favored unpopular ideas. Both were assassinated before going to trial. After shooting Lincoln in a theater, Booth hid in a warehouse. Kennedy was shot from a warehouse, and Oswald hid in a theater.

While living in the White House, both President Lincoln and President Kennedy lost children through death. Both presidents were killed in the presence of their wives on a Friday. President Lincoln's secretary, whose name was Kennedy, suggested that he not go to the theater, while President Kennedy's secretary, whose name was Lincoln, advised him not to go to Dallas.

The names Lincoln and Kennedy each contain 7 letters. The names Andrew Johnson and Lyndon Johnson each contain 15 letters. The names John Wilkes Booth and Lee Harvey Oswald each contain 15 letters.

Over forty years ago, President Harry Truman took action to eliminate discriminatory policies. Clinton has taken a stand on gays in the military just as Harry Truman did for blacks in 1948. It has taken decades for Americans to become accustomed to Truman's decision as it probably will with Clinton's.

Other repeated events are biblical ones. The book of Exodus contains a story in which God's wrath was kindled against the people of Sodom and Gomorrah for their homosexuality. When they refused to turn away from their sin God destroyed the city. In Noah's time, God instructed Noah to build an ark for he would flood the face of the earth to rid it of evil people. In the book of Numbers, God destroyed the people under the leadership of Moses for the "bullheadedness" by allowing a pit to open in the earth and swallow the them.

While some may say these are coincidences, a closer look can lead us to many more parallels throughout history. It's well worth the time to find them.

Lady Pioneers at 20-8

The GSC women's basketball team continued its second half surge by beating WV Tech on Saturday and University of Charleston on Sunday.

Senior Nikki Cale led the way on Saturday by scoring 19 points, while center Jackie Myers turned in a fine all-round game by scoring 19 points, also pulling 13 rebounds to lead the Lady Pioneers to a 79-67 win over WV Tech in the first round of the WVIAC tourney. June Shriver scored 16, and Christy Fitzwater scored 10 points and dished out 12 assists.

The fourth seeded women's team took the floor on Sunday to battle U.C. led by an inspiring play by Myers, winning by a 69-59 score. Myers, who scored 19 points and accumulated 10 rebounds, was in foul trouble much of the game. Shriver also tallied 19 points for the cause as Fitzwater added 13.

The Lady Pioneers faced number one seed Bluefield State on Monday night at 7:00 p.m. At press time, the result of that game was not available. The women's record now stands at 20-8 overall.

GSC Concert Band to Make History on March 1

by Tim Marks

The GSC Concert Band will give its annual Spring Concert on Monday, March 1, at 8:00 p.m. in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

This year's concert, however, will be a GSC first. WDTV, channel 5 in Weston, will record the concert which will be broadcasted in a future special. Because of this recording, cameras and camcorders will not be allowed in the auditorium.

You may, however, bring yourself to enjoy an evening of fine music at no charge. If you should like to have a recording of the concert, there will be order forms at the concert. Prices are $25 per tape if the station provides the tape or $10 if you provide a blank tape of your own. The date for the broadcast will be announced at a later date.

Selections for the concert range from the world of the Broadway musical including selections from "My Fair Lady" to the traditional concert march, Henry Fillmore's "Rolling Thunder," to more serious and challenging pieces such as "Jericho," a song that creates mental images of the Battle of Jericho.

When asked how the group was coming along, Band Director John McKinney said, "I am very pleased with what the students have been doing. I feel this will be a positive musical experience. . . . We hope that students, faculty, staff and members of the community will come out and be a part of our first televised performance."

Movie Review

Untamed Heart

by Todd Pettit

Just in time for Valentine's Day comes a schlamtzy romance wasting the talents of three up and comers (Christian Slater, Rosie Perez and Marisa Tomei) in the melodramatic blend of love and tears that has come to define "teen movie."

Poor old Caroline (Tomei) is one of life's kicked dogs; if it weren't for bad luck, as the cliché goes, she'd have to luck a'tall.

She gets used and abused by a lot of dirtballs in her search for Mr. Wonderful and is going pretty much nowhere in her career as a beautician/waitress at the local hamburger shop. Little does she know that Mr. Wonderful is lurking right under her nose; the dishwasher (Slater) may redefine the term "greasy spoon" but he looks pretty darn good when he saves her life from two would be rapists.

In one of the movies' more powerful moments, Caroline passes out in Slater's arms, and he carries her back home in the night air.

After this, Caroline struggles with her mixed feeling (Slater is not exactly a "Teen Beat" pinup in this movie; greasy hair and stubble seem to be his forte). Perez, the wise-acre, tough as nails broad from "White Men Can't Jump," playing a fellow waitress, offers this sound advice, the perfect mix of sluttiness and wisdom, "I'd do him, if only he'd do something with his hair."

Boy saves girl, girl finds Mr. Sensitive and Mr. Tough Guy all rolled into one casually unwashed package, boy dies at end of film . . . whoops, I told the climax, even though you're pretty sure Slater's going to bite the big one; or otherwise what would be the point of this entire movie? "Untamed Heart" is a likeable sobfest, but against such tearjerkers as "Steel Magnolias" or "Terms of Endearment," it's pretty tame.

Leonard Ostrander to Give Piano Recital on Saturday at 8:00 p.m.

Leonard Ostrander will give a piano recital in the Fine Arts Auditorium on Saturday, February 27, at 8:00 p.m. Ostrander will perform compositions by Beethoven, Ginastera, Bach, Ravel and Chopin. This performance is open free to the college and community.

Leonard Ostrander

Ostrander is a graduate of the Cleveland Institute of Music and the University of Maryland. He is currently a graduate student at the University of Miami and serves as the music director of Trinity United Methodist Church in Miami, Florida. His teachers include Gerald Synder, Michael Edwards, James Tannenbaum, Jose Ramos Santana and Sylvia Rabinof.

Ostrander is no stranger to Glensville State College; this will be his second recital here in recent years but his first recital in the new Art and Music Building.

The List Goes On and On and . . .

by David Graham

Here's the continuation of the golden collection of good Broadway Musical movies. This list of movie musicals is by no means complete, and the films themselves are by no means flawless. The list, however, does provide a brief glimpse of the movie musical from "classic" to contemporary.

Camelot: Filmed in 1967, this musical by the team of Lerner and Loewe received mixed reviews at best. Although the reviews were poor this is not a musical to pass. The sets used in the film are impressive, and the strong score should not be overlooked.

Grease: John Travolta and Olivia Newton-John starred in this 1978 film. The songs are clever, and the film has a wonderful way in conjuring up the 50's nostalgia. The most memorable songs from the musical are "Summer Nights," "Greased Lightning" and "Hopelessly Devoted to You."

Fiddler on the Roof: Israeli actor Topol, in the role of Tevye, gave a powerful performance in the film that went on to win three Oscars. Some of the most popular stage songs came from this movie. Songs such as "If I Were a Rich Man" and "Sunrise, Sunset" will be known forever.

Jesus Christ Superstar: Although a great amount of controversy surrounds this film, it should not be overlooked simply for the fact of the blazing score written by Sir Andrew Lloyd Webber and lyrics by Tim Rice.

Delta Zeta

The Theta Xi Chapter of Delta Zeta had an informal meeting Monday, February 22, to discuss future rushing activities, sorority business and State Day.

After the meeting we had a Hat Party, and we want to thank all the girls who attended. We had a great time.

The sisters of Delta Zeta sorority would like to congratulate and welcome two new pledges to our sorority. They are Patsy Buckles and Stephanie Cumberledge. We love you, girls!

Anyone interested in Greek life, please, contact a sorority sister or a fraternity brother. We will be glad to help you. Go Greek! It's a fun way to enjoy college and meet many people.

The Delta Zeta will be having a movie night Thursday, March 4, from 7:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. We encourage all girls who are interested in Delta Zeta or just want to have a good time to come down to the Delta Zeta house and enjoy a movie and popcorn. We would love to have you.

Way to go Kari for placing in the top three in Miss Kanawhachen. We knew you could do it. We love you, sis!
